Course Description

One of the most prominent challenges of the healthcare industry is communication of healthcare information. Consumers often fall victim to the gap between what is being communicated by healthcare providers and their ability to comprehend such communication. HCA 120 introduces health literacy from a consumer's perspective and introduces tools for healthcare professionals to improve communication of healthcare information addressing the disparity. In this course students will learn to communicate and deliver complex healthcare messages to diverse populations. The course will also address how consumers can heighten awareness and better prepare to be their own advocate.

Correspondence with Instructor – PLEASE READ...IT IS IMPORTANT THAT YOU FOLLOW THESE GUIDELINES!

Please make sure to include the following in EVERY EMAIL THAT YOU SEND TO ME:

- Full Name (ex. Jane Smith)
- 800# (ex. 800101010)
- Class (ex HCA 120)
- Section (ex 001)

Give me a detail of the issue at hand and list any questions you have. If you are requesting a meeting date and time, list 3 different days and times when you are available during my office hours (see above), so that we are able to reduce back and forth I expect formal and professional language, and respect in every email.

It is important to address someone respectfully in an email. “Hey”, or “Hi” maybe the current trend, however, it is not profession or respectful when it comes to professional communication. It is quite disrespectful. Here is an example of how one should write a formal, professional email:

Dear Ms. Smith,

This email is in regard to Assignment 4. I am struggling to understand question 2, and also cannot find answer to question 6. Would you be able to assist or point me in the right direction?

I think it would help me to set up a meeting with you. Here are my availabilities:

- Monday 9am
- Wednesday 4pm
- Friday 10 am

Please let me know when we may be able to meet.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely (respectfully/humbly/with regards/etc.),

Jack Smith

It is important you follow the above instruction for communicating via email to avoid delay of response, or no response altogether. Allow between 24 and 48 hours for a response. If you do not hear from me, forward your previous email, letting me know that you are forwarding a previous email. I try to answer my emails as soon as they come in, however, sometimes the volume and frequency of emails I receive can make that difficult, and some emails fall to the bottom and go unnoticed. Having said that, please do not wait until the last minute to email me.

Process for Academic Dishonesty

Dishonesty: Such as cheating, plagiarism, misrepresenting of oneself or an organization, knowingly furnishing false information to the University, or omitting relevant or necessary information to gain a benefit, to injure, or to defraud is prohibited.

Academic Integrity: The maintenance of academic integrity is of fundamental importance to the University. Thus it should be clearly understood that acts of plagiarism or any other form of cheating will not be tolerated and that anyone committing such acts risks punishment of a serious nature.

Academic Dishonesty: Students who commit any act of academic dishonesty may receive from the instructor a failing grade in that portion of the course work in which the act is detected or a failing grade in a course without possibility of withdrawal. The faculty member may also present the case to the Office of Judicial Affairs for disciplinary sanctions. A student who believes a faculty member has dealt unfairly with him/her in a course involving academic dishonesty may seek relief through the Student Complaint Procedure.

Plagiarism: To represent written work taken from another source as one's own is plagiarism. Plagiarism is a serious offense. The academic work of a student must be his/her own. One must give any author credit for source material borrowed from him/her. To lift content directly from a source without giving credit is a flagrant act. To present a borrowed passage without reference to the source after having changed a few words is also plagiarism.

Cheating: No student shall receive or give assistance not authorized by the instructor in taking an examination or in the preparation of an essay, laboratory report, problem assignment or other project which is submitted for purposes of grade determination.

Other Types of Academic Dishonesty: Other types of academic offenses, such as the theft or sale of tests, electronic transmission of test, test sharing, etc. will be reported to the Office of Judicial Affairs for disciplinary action.

What if a student plagiarizes or in some other way is academically dishonest?

The Faculty Syllabus, or Handbook may permit a faculty member to fail a student on the assignment or the entire class. Cases of academic dishonesty may be referred to The Office of Student Conduct for review and additional action. Faculty or reporting staff should meet with the offending student; inform them of the violation; and make them aware that they have been referred to The Office of Student Conduct prior to submission of your report and/or the start of the student conduct proceedings.

How do I file a report?

Faculty or Staff members create incident reports and supporting documentation via email to the Office of Student Conduct. The IR should be referred to student.conduct@wku.edu.

REPORTS SHOULD BE SUBMITTED WITHIN 72 HOURS OF THE INCIDENT
