ISBN: 9781284088434

Course Description:

This course analyzes the major health problems of contemporary women, with a special emphasis on health promotion, disease prevention, and consumer health concerns. It is a web based class. Thus all coursework, including exams, will be completed on-line.

Course Goals:

- 1) To enhance student understanding of the many factors that positively and negatively affect the health of women.
- 2) To involve students in assessing their own health status and threats to their future health and quality of life.

Course Objectives:

By the end of the semester the student will be able to:

1. Describe how the women's health movement affected health status, health research, and health care of women.
2. Critically analyze and discuss findings and implications of selected research studies that explore various health and health care issues of women.
3. Identify the common diseases and disorders of women: their causes, prevalence, risk factors, symptoms, treatment, and preventive measures.
4. Analyze selected factors that serve as barriers to women's health status and ways that public policy, health organizations, and women themselves can enhance health behavior.
5. Discuss the status and trends in the health of women, with special attention to differences based on age, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, and socioeconomic status.
6. Explore selected physiological changes a woman's body undergoes (i.e., menarche, pregnancy, childbirth, menopause, aging, etc.) and their psychosocial impact.
7. Analyze information and make informed decisions to enhance personal health status and medical care.

Course Format:

This on-line course consists of 15 chapters that are organized into 4 Sections. Each Section contains PowerPoint, assignments, and a test. The on-line class sessions are asynchronous and allow students to work within specified time parameters for each section. After completing all readings in a Section, students will complete assignments and a test. Each assignment is intended to expand the student's critical thinking skills and to apply information just learned.

Attendance Policy

The University policy states that "Registration in a course obligates the student to be regular and punctual in class attendance." Since this is an online course, the student is expected to participate in class discussions (postings) and submit materials by the due dates. You are responsible for all course information, reading, class discussions, assignments, and exams. The course is designed so that students can work at their own pace EXCEPT there are specific deadlines for each section. If you are falling behind with a legitimate reason, please contact me about your situation. You are responsible for your own work and your grade will be affected by lack of contribution to the course.

WKU Policy on Plagiarism

To represent ideas or interpretations taken from another source as one's own is plagiarism. Plagiarism is a serious offence. The academic work of students must be their own. Students must give author(s) credit for any source material used. To lift directly from a source without giving credit is a flagrant act. To present a borrowed passage after having changed a few words, even if the source is cited, is also plagiarism. Student work may be checked using plagiarism detection software.

WKU Policy on Cheating

No student shall receive or give assistance not authorized by the instructor in taking examinations or in the preparation of an essay, laboratory report, problem assignment, or other project that is submitted for purposes of grade determination.

Other Types of Academic Dishonesty

Other Types of Academic Dishonesty

- taking an exam, test or quiz in a course and discussing it with students who take the test at a later time
- submitting the same assignment to two separate courses without consent of the instructor
- helping another student cheat and/or plagiarize
- sabotaging of another student's work

The bottom line regarding Academic Honesty is ---- ALL work in the class must be YOUR work!
