Student Learning goals:

By the end of this course, you should be able to write about/discuss three genres of literature. We will be exploring how literature reflects and shapes human experience and values. Ask yourself how your life experiences relate to a particular author or theme of a story and write about them and share your connections with the class.

I want our class to develop a friendly and helpful reading/writing community. In order to maintain and build our community, your full participation is vital for the entire semester. As with any subject, the more effort you put into this course the more knowledge you gain from it.

University Course Description and Objectives:

WKU Catalog description: Introductory study of fiction, poetry, and drama demonstrating techniques by which literary artists reflect human experiences. Substantial student writing about literature will be required.

General Goals and Objectives for English 200

Colonnade Program Description

English 200 provides an introduction to a variety of literature at the college level. Assignments encourage critique and analysis and give students introductory knowledge of key literary terms, concepts, and reading strategies. Students apply this knowledge in discussing and writing about literary texts and consider how literature inscribes the human experience. Because these classes emphasize the reading of primary texts, instructors will focus on literacy skills to supplement content course work.

English 200 Learning Outcomes

Colonnade Learning Outcomes Met by This Course

English 200 helps to fulfill the Arts and Humanities (AH) Colonnade requirement. Upon completion of this English 200, students will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Utilize basic formal elements, techniques, concepts and vocabulary of specific disciplines within the Arts and Humanities.
2. Distinguish among various kinds of evidence by identifying reliable sources and valid arguments.
3. Demonstrate how social, cultural, and historical contexts influence creative expression in the Arts and Humanities.
4. Evaluate the significance of human expression and experience in shaping larger social, cultural, and historical

- contexts.
5. Evaluate enduring and contemporary issues of human experience.
 6. Read, comprehend, and analyze primary texts independently and proficiently.

Course Overview:

As an introduction to literature, this course is designed to give you experience with the three major genres (fiction, poetry, and drama); reading, writing, and discussion of ideas are central.

Writing Center Assistance: The Writing Center on the Bowling Green campus is offering only remote assistance to writers during the covid-19 pandemic. WKU students may request feedback on their writing via email or arrange a real-time Zoom conference to discuss a paper. See instructions and how-to videos on the website (www.wku.edu/writingcenter) for making online synchronous (Zoom) or asynchronous (email) appointments. Students may also get short writing questions answered via email; just put "Quick question" in the subject line to writingcenter@wku.edu.

The WKU Glasgow START Center/Writing Center will be offering writing tutoring sessions in synchronous online format as well as in person, by appointment only. More information on how to make appointments and what to expect from your appointment will continue to be posted at <https://www.wku.edu/startcenter/>.

Assignments

Exams

3 unit exams: We will wrap up each of the units with an exam that will require you to be familiar with literary concepts and conventions and to synthesize and think critically about the material we have covered. The exams will be given during a "window" of days so take the exam on the day that is most convenient for you. You will be taking the exam at home and not in a testing center due to the pandemic. You can expect, randomly selected questions, no backtracking, and one question at a time. T/F, Multiple Choice, one essay question, Multiple Answer (pick all correct or no credit)

Fiction Essay

Pick a short story we have covered and write a 1000 word (4 page) essay discussing/analyzing some aspect of the story or the story as a whole. See the handout in Course Documents in our blackboard site that discusses how to write about literature. Use our MLA guides in our external links area or use the guide posted in the Course Documents-Fiction Essay area when quoting from the primary text, which will be the story you choose from our textbook/scanned stories (found in Course Documents). A secondary scholarly source is required, so please use the WKU library (database journals) and stay away from any .com websites, dictionaries, or encyclopedias. Try to stay away from author biographical research unless the information helps prove or directly connects to your point. This essay must end with an MLA Work Cited page and correctly make use of MLA citation documentation including in-text citations.

Required: see a Writing Center Tutor Virtually with your thesis and outline. Get help with organizing paragraphs around a topic sentence that connects to your thesis statement. Make sure you are arguing something about the fiction story you select. Ask about how to narrow down your topic so you can do a close reading on a specific passage from the reading that connects to your topic on the reading.

Quizzes

In an effort to help you be successful in this course, there are several application/content quizzes over the literary terms found in the glossary at the end of our textbook and in the scanned readings (found in Terms to Study) and essay content question(s) to help you practice the skill of analyzing literature. Make sure to review the terms and read through each essay before attempting the quiz. Typically a quiz will include multiple choice questions/Multiple Answer over literary terms and matching over the creative piece we haven't discussed on our group discussion boards.

Blackboard Postings over Readings: (Post on Discussion Board; 100 words min)

On days dictated by the syllabus, you will need to respond to your readings and classmates' opinion using Blackboard. Read everyone's comments and then post an answer to a question that has not been answered yet and then the second post is to reply to a classmate's posting in depth (ungradeable comments—"I agree" or "I didn't understand so I can't comment").

1) answer one question and add your own critical thinking 2) respond to some one's ideas by replying. Discuss the article's meaning, opinions, and theories with your classmates online. Be sure to refer to the assigned readings incorporating a quote or paraphrase so you can have a "close reading" and analysis of the text(s). Apply our terms to the creative text of the module. The purpose behind these conversations is to stimulate thoughts and ideas about the module's topic and to help you think critically about your readings. IF you are the 1st to post, you will need to come back later and reply to someone in a separate posting.

These postings will be due the day indicated on the syllabus using CST. Your postings will show the date & time, so make sure you've posted by the deadline. If there is a problem with BB, e-mail me and we will work it out. Be sure however to type your postings in WORD as a safety pre-caution as BB sometimes does strange things.

Explanation of Grade Criteria—use as guidelines when you reply and discuss your thoughts)

ACM= needed to address a specific classmate (use their name in your reply)

SA=needed to address something specific from texts

EX=needed to expand on ideas and/or length issues

CT=work on critical and insightful thoughts/comments and/or support your ideas further

Ideally, in order to insure thoughtful engaged postings, you would post and then wait a day or so and reply to a classmate's thoughts. Please make sure you are engaged and don't wait until the last minute. If I find discussion becomes difficult, I will require two days between postings. Hopefully we won't have to resort to that measure. I will be looking for the date and time of your postings as well as the quality of both postings to give credit.

Drama Module Postings (Othello/A Doll's House)

During the Drama Unit, your discussion group will be working on a worksheet which covers the act(s) for the week's readings. The textbox will have several questions and each group member will take charge of a question and post the answer in the group discussion board. In essence, by answering the questions, your group will be creating a study guide for the drama exam. Each group member is responsible for answering two questions referring to act/scene/line and using quotes in order to receive credit.

DRAMA MODULE POSTING DIFFERENCE

During the Drama section, students are not expected to "respond" to a classmate for credit. A student can answer two of the drama questions, but if there are no questions left they can respond to a classmate for credit.

Course Policies

Attendance:

You are responsible for your own work and your grade is the one affected by your lack of contribution. You are responsible for all course information, reading, and activities. If you are "missing in action" meaning you haven't contributed to our course for two weeks (two due dates) and you have not spoken to me about your situation, you will receive is an automatic F. If you feel like you are falling behind for any reason, you should make every effort to find out what you have missed in a timely fashion from a classmate or from the class materials. If you miss an excessive amount of postings/assignments, your grades will begin suffer.

University policy states, "Registration in a course obligates the student to be regular and punctual in class attendance." Students who are absent a total of two weeks worth of class must either withdraw by the official withdraw date or expect an F/FN for the semester.

Participation:

In an online class, if you aren't participating, you can't earn a grade. There is a difference in excited, informed, and engaged participation verses slapping words up on a discussion board to meet a deadline. This class is about human concerns (not necessarily always your own), so interacting through postings and assignments over the readings are essential to your learning. Consistently good contributions/participation will make the difference with borderline grades.

All assignment should be completed and ready to be discussed on the date indicated on the course schedule. You are expected to be prepared to discuss all assigned writings, readings, and participate in discussion boards in a timely manner; do not wait until the day it is due to start. You will lose points if you wait to post in GDB until the last minute, turn in assignments late, don't communicate concerns or problems in a timely manner (don't wait until due date to communicate issues), and show an overall lack of preparedness in regards to readings or directions to postings (repeatedly).

Communication:

How, when, and where we communicate is a very important part of the course. You will need to become familiar with where I post my feedback to your group discussions and assignments. I will post my thoughts concerning: class assignments, exams/quizzes, to add information about terms/reading from the book, or to give/clarify directions on the class discussion board. I will read but not respond as much on your group discussion boards. I place a lot of value on student-to-student discussion and communication and just because I'm not posting, doesn't mean I'm not observing and reading. If I don't respond to your postings on your group discussion board, don't worry that something is wrong, it is only that I want to see if you all can generate meaning from the readings in your groups.

"Ask Dr. Hall" on the class discussion board is a place to "raise your hand in class" and ask me a question. If you ask a question and I haven't responded within 48 hours, please send your question in an e-mail to me. DO NOT USE THIS AREA for questions on assignments the day they are due. Email instead with issues; I have to log onto BB to reply and if it is a last minute issue I can reply faster via email and might not be able to log into BB to reply on the DB.

"The Water Cooler" is a place set aside for you all to discuss any type of issues as you would before and after a f2f class. If you want to set up a study group, need to announce a happy event in your life or want to share a current news event, the Water Cooler is the place to post.

Late work: (Poetry Project)

Since this course is planned out in advance and students know when and what they are expected to turn in, I do not anticipate late work to be a problem. Ten points will be deducted for each day an assignment is late. Our "days" end at 12:00 am CST, midnight.

Postings will not be accepted late since it is a discussion and posting after the due date defeats the purpose of the assignment. Please budget enough time to post by the deadline and in the specific stipulations so you can receive full credit.

Typically no make-ups for quizzes. They need to be completed by the due date listed. If there is a technical glitch please e-mail me as soon as possible and we will work together to find a solution. I will only allow one make up due to a proven/documented technical glitch, so make sure you are in a quiet, internet secure place when taking quizzes.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is a serious offense, which can result in a grade of F for the course. Plagiarism occurs when a student misrepresents the words or ideas of others as her/his own. Please read the section on Plagiarism in the Student Handbook carefully. If you have any questions about this while you are trying to incorporate the work of others into your papers, please ask me for help.

Honor Code: As an instructor, I want to believe and trust that my students are being honorable. In an effort to be honorable, honest and fair to other classmates, I ask that we all go by the honor system while working on this course. That means not cheating in any form while engaged in quizzes, exams or postings. Cheating can result in a grade of F for the course.

Disruptive Behavior Policy:

Remember typing is very different from speaking. Your typing can be misunderstood as rude, impolite, or hurtful because we can't see nonverbal body language. Here are some tips on how to get your message across respectfully.

Do:

- be clear and thorough
- think before you hit submit (could your words misconstrued)
- reread everything you type
- use spell check always
- if you want to convey an emotion use ☺ or type lol (laugh out loud)
- be respectful always

Don't

- start flaming (Flaming can be defined by making pointless or hurtful messages or just posting to see your own typing. Flamers are often banned or ignored in a forum or chat room. An online argument that becomes nasty or derisive, where insulting a party to the discussion takes precedence over the objective. Urban Dictionary.com)
- disagree without explaining why and giving proof from our readings to back up your ideas
- type hurtful things
- go too long without asking a question if you are frustrated

Behaviors that disrupt the sharing of knowledge will invoke one e-mail or phone warning; if repeated, said student will lose 10% off their final grade (equivalent to one grade level) and then the said student may be removed from the course. If you need to clarify a point, ask me via e-mail or phone. I want you to be successful in this course, but I will not allow your peers to be in a disruptive learning environment.

WKU Mask Policy

Out of respect for the health and safety of the WKU community and in adherence with the CDC guidelines, the University requires that a cloth face covering(reusable or disposable) that covers both the nose and mouth must be worn at all times when in public areas within all buildings. Students must properly wear face coverings while in class regardless of the room size or the nature of the classroom activities. Students who fail to wear a face covering as required will be in violation of the WKU Student Code of Conduct and will be asked to comply or will face disciplinary action, including possible dismissal from the University. Accommodations to face coverings must be determined by the Student Accessibility Resource Center and documented before a student may attend class.

Program Assessment Notice

As part of a university-wide accreditation study, a small sample of papers will be collected from randomly-selected individuals in all ENG 100, 200, and 300 classes this semester. The papers will be examined anonymously as part of a program assessment; results will have no bearing on student assessment or course grades.

Incompletes

Typically, incompletes will not be granted for any Foundations category English course. When extenuating circumstances arise—for example, if a student in the military is deployed or if a student has a personal or medical crisis that comes up toward the end of the semester—the student must discuss the situation with the instructor if possible and the instructor will consider an incomplete. The instructor will only consider an incomplete for students who are in good standing (C or higher) in the course.

Resolving Complaints about Grades

The first step in resolving a complaint about grades is for the student to attempt to resolve the problem directly with the course instructor. See the Student Handbook, available at <http://www.wku.edu/handbook/> for additional guidance.

Title IX Misconduct/Assault Statement

Western Kentucky University (WKU) is committed to supporting faculty, staff and students by upholding WKU's Title IX Sexual Misconduct/Assault Policy (#0.2070) at <https://wku.edu/eoo/documents/titleix/wkutitleixpolicyandgrievanceprocedure.pdf> and Discrimination and Harassment Policy (#0.2040) at <https://www.wku.edu/policies/docs/251.pdf>.
