EXPECTATIONS, EVALUATION AND GRADING

Policies and Procedures

Each student will be responsible for following the policies and required curriculum as stated in the LPN to ASN Student Handbook.

Additional Learning Activities/Workshops/Testing/Etc.

Students will be given prior notice for any required learning activities/workshops/testing/etc that are scheduled outside class/clinical time. Attendance for these additional activities is mandatory to successfully meet the objectives of NUR 215.

Evaluation/Grading

The final grade for each student will be based on a percentage of total points obtained. Ninety percent (90%) of the course grade will be from unit exams and a comprehensive final. Ten percent (10%) of the course grade will be from the student's score on the Maternal Newborn HESI standardized examination. Unit examinations will consist of various test question formats including but not limited to multiple-choice questions. The final exam will be comprehensive. Testing material may be taken from reading assignments, class lectures, handout materials, study guides, case studies, instructional audio/video materials, and other assigned reading sources.

Unit Exam 1	50 points
Unit Exam 2	50 points
Unit Exam 3	50 points
Final Exam	40 points
Total Test Points	190

HESI 100 points

Use the following formula to calculate student course grade:

$$\frac{\{\text{Total \# Unit \& Final Exam points} \times 0.90\} + \{\text{HESI Exam \% Score} \times 0.10\}}{190} = \text{Grade}$$

Tests for this course shall be taken at the WKU South Campus Testing Center, an approved off-campus testing center or via Proctor-U. It is the student's responsibility to schedule each test using the directions sent to students via email by the DELO Testing Center. Students must complete all exams between the hours of 6:00 AM and 8:00 PM CST on the assigned day.

APPEALS

Students wishing to appeal a test or assignment or other grade in this course must follow the following process. Any appeals for an alternate response to be counted as correct must be negotiated with the course faculty. Students have one week following the grade to challenge the test or assignment grade. Challenges must be made in writing and based on material they can reference in their textbook or notes. This process must take place within the designated time frame, not after final course grades have been posted. In addition, the student must question specific test or paper or assignment items, and not just ask for points to be added to their grade due to their individual needs and life circumstances.

Course Grade appeals must follow the university academic complaint process outlined in the WKU Student Handbook at <https://www.wku.edu/handbook/academic-complaint.php> appeals (students seeking a change in grade) must be based on an error in grading (the student did not get the same points for the same response as everyone else in the class). If there is no error in grading and there is no math error in calculating the student's grade, then there is no basis for a grade appeal. Grades will not be changed just because a student is short of points to pass the course. Additional points for test or other assignments will not be considered after the student has failed the course unless the test falls within the one-week challenge period. Any test item challenges must be conducted in the week following the exam and must be resolved with the faculty member at that time, based on information from the course materials such as the textbook. The faculty member is considered the expert and the faculty members option of the correct answer will be the final answer.

A. Important Complaint Exceptions:

- Student Disability regarding denial of accommodations, the student must report to the Student ADA Compliance Officer and follow WKU policy #6.1010
